
Roland Posner

The Metropolis as a Giant Hall of Mirrors and the Car as Its Social Medium

Video

<http://cloud-cuckoo.net/de/hefte/aktuelles-heft/posner/>

Lecture given at the international scientific conference Architecture and Social Media in Network Societies, TU Berlin, October 29th, 2013.

Biographical Notes

Roland Posner (Prof. Dr.) studied philosophy, comparative literature, linguistics and communication theory at the Universities of Bonn, Munich and Berlin. Since 1975 he has been full professor for linguistics and semiotics at the Technical University of Berlin. He is the founding president of the German Society for Semiotics (DGS), honorary president of the International Association for Semiotic Studies (IASS) and, since 1979, the founder and editor of the Zeitschrift für Semiotik. He has published numerous books and papers on linguistics, semiotics, philosophy of language, philosophy of science and cultural analysis, as well as editing over 200 books on these topics. He has also displayed numerous works and exhibitions as a photographer.