
Moritz Gleich

Architect and Service Architect

The Quarrel Between Charles Barry and David Boswell Reid

Abstract

The following is an extended abstract of an article with the same title, published in Interdisciplinary Science Reviews in 2012. The article provides a truly enlightening view on the transforming role of the architect and new role of the engineer in the nineteenth century. Moritz Gleich agreed to summarize the main arguments of his article in this extended abstract for W|C|B.

Keywords
